& \text{with Pedal}
\end{align*}

\begin{align*}
\text{In the bleak midwinter,} \\
\text{Frosty wind made moan, Earth stood hard as iron,}
\end{align*}

Originally written as an anthem for unison voices with descant, it may be sung as such by singing the soprano line and descant throughout.

Text: Christina Rossetti, 1830-1894 (PD). Written sometime around 1872, the poem was never intended as a hymn or carol because of its irregular meter.

Div. Snow had fallen.

Water like a stone; Snow had fallen, had fallen.

Snow had fallen, had fallen on

snow on snow, Snow on snow,

snow on snow, Snow on snow,

snow on snow, Snow on snow,
Cherubim and seraphim Thronged the air;
But there, and seraphim Thronged the air;
Cherubim and seraphim Thronged the air;
there, and seraphim Thronged the air;

Thronged the air; But

on - ly his moth - er, In her maid - en bliss,
I would do my part; Yet what I can I give him:

Give my heart.
