About Musicplay

Musicplay is a new affordable music program for elementary schools. Awarded “Project of the Year” in 2001 by the Canadian College of Teachers Musicplay is in use in more than 2000 schools internationally. Musicplay is a play based music program - each week features a new game from which the musical concepts in the curriculum are taught. Children love music games - this is a text that will have your students really excited about learning music! There are songs for holiday performances, patriotic songs, folk songs, game songs, reading songs, fun songs, pop songs, rounds and choral music. The most important factor in selecting songs for this series, is that the songs appeal to children! Multicultural songs feature authentic performances. The CD's are fully orchestrated, with a variety of voicings and styles. Accompaniments only are provided for most of the performance pieces.

Musicplay supports and enhances science, social studies, and language arts curriculums. Throughout this binder you will see a curriculum connections note whenever suggestions for integration of curriculum are made. Integration with other art forms is an integral part of this program. There are many opportunities for writing, movement, dance, dramatization and creation of artwork.

Musicplay is suitable for the classroom teacher with limited musical training and the music specialist. Music specialists will appreciate the planning and sequencing of the music for use within both Orff and Kodaly programs. However, the CD's make it possible for anyone to teach their own music.

At the beginning of this binder you will find a year plan, and an overview by month of skills and concepts to be taught. Each week, the songs and concepts to teach are outlined. The detailed lesson plans that were given in grades 1-5 are not given in the Musicplay 6 program. Instead, detailed teaching suggestions are given for each song. It is suggested that the sixth grade music teacher use this binder as a resource and choose the materials from the binder that are most effective for your students. This may help you overcome the difficulties that many sixth grade music teachers experience with motivating students to sing and participate appropriately in music. Students in one school may excel at the two part choral arrangements. Students in another school may find the pop song projects far more appealing.

Reproducible worksheets are given to support the teaching of music theory and listening. These thirty worksheets are a music program in and of themselves. Many sixth grade teachers have written about the problems they face in managing classroom behavior and motivating their students. Sometimes written work will help students to focus and make the classroom teachers job a little easier.

Support is provided to teachers using the program. Email questions are answered as quickly as possible. Updates are provided as pdf files at no additional cost. A newsletter is sent to any Musicplay user who requests it. This newsletter highlights songs and activities in the program and gives teachers many ideas.

The core resource is the Musicplay binder with CD's. The listening component is included in this Grade 6 program. Student books are strongly recommended for this level. It is nearly impossible to teach the longer songs by rote and photocopying is not permitted except when it is explicitly stated. A collection of all the Orff arrangements recorded for Musicplay 6 will be available shortly. The use of the “Complete Recorder Resource Kit 2” is recommended for the recorder component of Musicplay 6. We are currently developing a unit for teaching classroom guitar and ukelele and hope to have it available in 2004.

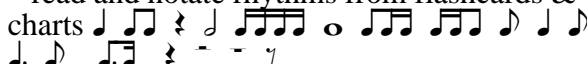

MUSICPLAY meets and exceeds all provincial curriculum requirements and MENC standards. Sample lessons, complete scope and sequence, curriculum correlations for your province and song lists can be found at the web site or by emailing. (tvmusic@agt.net) Even a school with limited budgets can have new textbooks!

Our philosophy is simple. Every child has a right to a music education - even when a specialist teacher isn't available for his or her school. We provide materials that a specialist loves and a non-specialist can understand. Most importantly, we provide the materials at a price that schools can afford!
