

Foreword

The selections found in For Praise have been some of my favorite go-to hymns for preludes, offertories, and postludes. When I approach the task of arranging a new collection such as this, a nagging voice inside tells me, “There’s nothing left to say.” “It’s been done already.” “That hymn? Again?”

Those thoughts are not irrelevant. How can I improve upon these great hymns? The answer to that question is: I can’t improve them. They are what they are, and have withstood the test of time on their own. These classics continue to be loved and sung everywhere. It is this continued popularity that has given arrangers the ability to revive the heart of a hymn that may have become almost overly familiar with time. A new setting of these hymns grants a new glimpse – a new perspective – on them, and the familiar becomes fresh once again.

My desire for those who use and play these piano arrangements is for them to look in between the lines of the staff. Make each note, rest, and dynamic your own. Let your interpretation draw others to listen, reflect, and renew their love for these songs and the Savior they celebrate.

— Brian Büda
